

Michael Ciurej, PT, MPT

Physical Therapist

Profile

Graduated from Northern Illinois University with a Bachelor's of Science in 2002 and Master's of Physical Therapy in 2003. I have been working in an orthopedic setting for 16 years treating a variety of musculoskeletal conditions. I am a certified KEY method functional capacity assessment specialist and trained with the Graston technique.

In my free time, I enjoy spending time with my wife and daughter. I have been playing vintage baseball for 14 years and enjoy watching all sports.
