Profile

April graduated with her Doctorate of Physical Therapy from Clarke University and joined our team in June 2018. April is passionate about continuing to develop skill sets with all ages and patient populations and dedicated to continuing education outside of time in the clinic. April enjoys working with a variety of patients and diagnoses by finding creative ways to return patients to their highest level of function using evidence based practice.

April has a background in competitive gymnastics and also competed in track & field while completing her Bachelor of Science in Biology from Clarke University. April has an understanding of the life of an athlete and dealing with injuries, which is why she strives to get all patients back to the activities that they enjoy through activity specific training and injury prevention.
