Profile

James Harlan, PT, DPT, completed his doctoral education in May of 2021. Through his clinical rotations, James has developed a passion for orthopedic rehabilitation. He hopes to expand his tool box to include vestibular therapy as well as running gait analysis.

James completed his undergraduate and graduate studies at Saint Louis University, where he was able to dedicate his time to community engagement. He hopes to continue to get involved and create connections throughout the community. In his free time, he enjoys hiking and kayaking, as well as spending time with friends and family.
